

About Lebanon Little League All-Stars

Each year, Lebanon Little League (hereafter LLL) will attempt to field competitive teams to participate in post-season Little League tournament play. The teams are composed of players from various teams that participated in the regular LLL Spring Baseball & Softball Seasons, these are our All-Star players. This document describes the process that LLL will follow when selecting the managers, coaches and players to represent LLL in the Little League post-season tournaments.

In summary, the managers will be decided by regular season team records as well as decided on by the LLL Board of Directors. Players are nominated by regular season coaches, with the top vote earners being selected. A nomination does not mean a selection. The All-Star Manager will have some discretion to select players he/she feels will best contribute and create a competitive team that represents LLL in post-season tournament play.

Objectives

The objective of the All-Star selection process is as follows:

- Comply with Little League International rules
- Create the most competitive team(s) possible
- Create teams that will represent the League and community's values
- Provide transparency of the process
- Be sustainable through ease of execution
- Create self-governance among coaches
- Be fair to players, parents and coaches
- Be consistent in its application

All-Star Manager Selection

Manager and Assistant Coach Eligibility

1. All-Star Managers and Assistant Coaches are considered ambassadors of LLL. They must have conducted themselves in exemplary fashion, upholding the values of LLL both on and off the field during the regular season. The President and/or League Vice Presidents may disqualify a candidate from consideration for conduct deemed unbecoming a representative of LLL.
 - a. "Conduct unbecoming a representative" is defined as repeated, observed and documented actions or behaviors which are wholly inconsistent with or violate the values or rules of LLL; behaviors which put LLL, players or coaches at substantial risk; or arrest or conviction of a crime.
 - b. LLL President shall have final authority to declare a candidate ineligible.
 - c. In the event that the LLL President determines a candidate ineligible, he/she shall convene a special session of the Board prior to taking action to remove and or disqualify a candidate from service. This meeting is advisory only.
2. A candidate must have attended the League Coaches Meeting presented at the outset of the season.
3. Candidate must have been a Manager of a team in the LLL regular spring season as follows:

LLL Regular Season Division	Little League Post-Season Tournament Division
Majors / 12U	11/12 Year Old All-Stars
Majors / 12U	11/10 Year Old All-Stars
AAA Minors / 10U	10/9 Year Old All-Stars

4. All candidate Coaches and Managers interested in coaching All-Stars must confirm their availability and commitment to coach the All-Star teams before agreeing to coach the tournament year.

Manager Selection Committee

The Manager Selection Committee will include the LLL President, VP's, and Player Agent.

Manager Selection Process

1. At the point of decision time in the season schedule, the following process will occur to determine the respective age group all-star coaches:
 - a. The leading record manager in Majors & 12U gets to choose whether they would like to coach the 12U team or the 11U team. The manager with the second-best record gets choice of the next available team. Process continues until managers of all all-star teams have been filled. The decision will not be based solely on the record of the coach's regular league team, but also character, the ability to work with players, parents and league officials, and the ability to make the time commitments to be available to conduct practices and participate in postseason tournaments for whatever length of time such teams are not eliminated from play

b. Since no win/lose records are kept for AAA & 10U divisions, the VP's of each division, along with the LLL President & Player Agent, will decide which managers they feel would be the best selection to manage the 10U all-star teams. The decision will be based on the coach's regular season team success, his/her character, the ability to work with players, parents and league officials, and the ability to make the time commitments to be available to conduct practices and participate in postseason tournaments for whatever length of time such teams are not eliminated from play

c. The Manager Selection Committee reserves the right to amend this process as necessary
